Mazel Tov!

Dear Bar/Bat Mitzvah Family,

You, as a family, are about to experience one of the most significant, Jewish, and highly spiritual adventures of your lifetime. This is a highly emotional journey and, as such, will be filled with some anxiety, but mostly joy.

This handbook is designed to relieve some of the anxiety and thereby increase joy of the Bar/Bat Mitzvah experience by answering many of the questions you may have. Although the congregation will do everything possible to prepare your child, family cooperation is essential. Yad b'yad b'yachad (together hand in hand) we can make this significant occasion a cherished memory in the life of your family.

We encourage you to read through this handbook, and to use it as a reference book often. Since some synagogue policies may change between now and your child's Bar/Bat Mitzvah date, you will want to be in touch with the Rabbi and the office as your date approaches.

May this be only one of many family simchas (joyous moments) we will share with you!

With Excitement,

*Rabbi Paul Kipnes, Cantor Doug Cotler,
Rabbi Julia Weisz, and Diane Townsend*

Explanation of the B'nai Mitzvah Ceremony¹

The second century C.E. sage, Judah ben Tema, could be called the inventor of B'nai Mitzvah. It was he who envisioned the way one's life of Jewish study and responsibility should unfold, including that at age thirteen, one is ready to do mitzvot. (There are 613 mitzvot - commandments - enunciated in the Torah.) A child younger than thirteen performed mitzvot as options, but once the child turned thirteen, mitzvot were to be considered as obligations. After the second century C.E., thirteen became the age of spiritual and moral choices, religious achievements and legal maturity.

All religions and cultures have their moments of “becoming” – the time for entry into the requirements of adult behavior. The Bar/Bat Mitzvah accomplishes precisely what anthropologist Barbara Myerhoff once insisted such a ritual must: “It provides a great moment of spiritual transformation strong enough to carry an adolescent across the chasm of chaos and fear.”

Reform Judaism, which began in Germany in the early 1800's, pioneered the inclusion of women in an equal role in religious life. Yet it is only in the twentieth century that women began to celebrate coming of age religiously with a Bat Mitzvah ceremony.

The first Bat Mitzvah ceremony occurred in 1922 in New York City. Rabbi Mordecai Kaplan invited his daughter Judith to recite the blessings over the Torah and read her portion from a book. We have progressed so much since that day, as the young Jewish women of today take on full ritual responsibility.

In modern interpretation, as boys and girls become B'nai Mitzvah, they accept the responsibilities and privileges that come with Jewish adulthood. According to Rabbi Jeffrey Salkin, “B'nai Mitzvah is about ritual maturity. It is about growing up as a Jew. It is about becoming a full-fledged member of the Jewish community.” Most importantly, it is about connecting to Torah and to the covenantal traditions of the Jewish people. The Bar and Bat Mitzvah service is sacred and deserves celebration.

Something uplifting and holy occurs when you read from the Torah scroll on the day when you become a Bar or Bat Mitzvah. You may not even notice it at the time, but it is happening and it is real. This occurs because the Torah is at the very center of our faith. It is our story, our vision, our sense of ourselves, the most basic record of what God wants of us.

- by Rabbi Jeffrey Salkin

Greetings

From Our Rabbis Paul Kipnes and Julia Weisz:

Placing the sacred Torah in your child's hands creates something intensely spiritual for all in attendance. Before that can occur, your child will learn to chant and understand a section of the original Hebrew text. You will prepare for the sacred moment when he/she takes those first important steps on the road to Jewish adulthood. To hold, chant from and understand Torah is a privilege. We will help you and your child understand the meaning of this privilege. I look forward to getting to know your child and your extended family, and to working with him/her on a D'var Torah (speech). At the Bar/Bat Mitzvah ceremony we will celebrate together, binding your family with our Jewish traditions.

If you have any questions about the service, ritual or preparation process, please contact Rabbi Paul (818-880-4880 or Rabbipaul@orami.org). If Rabbi Julia is officiating at your service, you may contact her (818-880-4880 or Rabbijulia@orami.org). We will have our first family meeting together three months before the simcha (joyous occasion).

From Our Cantor Doug Cotler:

Many months of preparation are about to unfold. With courage, patience, strength, and love, your child will grow. Savor each accomplishment. Surely the ceremony itself will prove to be an auspicious moment in the life of your child, family, and community as together we celebrate, and affirm our ancient heritage and tradition, in a vital and meaningful way.

Remember, though, that the real meaning of becoming a Bar/Bat Mitzvah is one of beginning - not completion. Your child is taking first steps on the path to Jewish adulthood. Thinking of it as the end of Jewish education is antithetical to its original purpose.

About a month before your Bar/Bat Mitzvah date, I will contact you to schedule a rehearsal at my home. Or you may also connect with me before then at my home office (818-888-8290 or dougcotler49@gmail.com). The rehearsal will be for the Bar/Bat Mitzvah student and the parent(s). I look forward to sharing and participating in your simcha.

From Our B'nai Mitzvah Teacher Diane Townsend:

I am honored to work with the Bar/Bat Mitzvah students. My mission is to create a learning ambience which is enjoyable and make it as easy as possible for each of my students. Even though the process may seem intimidating, each student will do a wonderful job as he/she becomes a Bat/Bar Mitzvah; I have not lost a student yet! My goal is to provide each of my students with an esteem-building and enriching experience as they work towards becoming a Bar/Bat Mitzvah. I will help your child reach his/her full potential, and assist you all in making everyone comfortable with all aspects of the process. I am here to answer questions, hold hands and soothe nerves. It is a joy for me to share this simcha with you. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me (818-424-9995 or bmteach1@aol.com).

GLOSSARY

Many Words You Need to Know

ALIYAH: During the Torah service, certain guests will be called up to the pulpit (bimah in Hebrew) to bless the Torah before and after each section is read. Aliyah literally means “going up.” It is a special honor to receive an aliyah, usually reserved for those particularly close to the Bar/Bat Mitzvah.

BAR MITZVAH: Son of the Commandment. Properly, this term applies to a person and not to a ceremony.

B'NAI MITZVAH: Children or sons of the commandment, or non-gender specific plural.

BAT MITZVAH: Daughter of the Commandment. Properly, this term applies to a person and not to a ceremony.

B'NOT MITZVAH: Daughters of the commandment, when referring specifically to females.

BIMAH: This refers to the raised platform area in the front of the sanctuary. Some people call it the pulpit.

CONFIRMATION: Confirmation is a ceremony created, in which a class of young Jewish adults confirms their allegiance to Judaism and the Jewish people. At Or Ami this ceremony usually occurs at the end of the eleventh grade.

D'VAR TORAH: A speech based on the Torah portion. In this interpretation of the weekly Torah reading, the Bar/Bat Mitzvah demonstrates study of the text and an understanding of one of its many messages.

G'LILAH: The people who have the honor in the Torah service of dressing the Torah scroll after it has been lifted by the Hagbah.

HAFTARAH: Following the reading from the Torah, a passage is read from the portion of the Bible called the Prophets (nevi'im in Hebrew). The Torah portion and the haftarah are usually connected by a common theme or literary style.

HAGBAH: Person who has the honor in the Torah service of lifting the Torah scroll high for all to see.

HAVDALAH: The ceremony, on Saturday evening, which separates Shabbat from the rest of the week.

HAZZANUT: Cantorial chanting/singing. A cantor is called Hazzan in Hebrew.

KIDDUSH: Kiddush is both a prayer and an act. As an act, it is the sanctification of Shabbat usually done with wine or grape juice. Kiddush is also the prayer over wine on Shabbat and holidays. In an extended sense of the word, Kiddush includes the Shabbat morning reception following services which begins with the kiddush prayer over wine.

KIPPAH: (Plural is Kippot) This head covering (also known in Yiddish as yarmulke) is a sign of reverence for God. In a Reform synagogue, the wearing of the Kippah and the Tallit is optional, although the B'nai Mitzvah customarily wear them.

MAFTIR: The concluding section of the Torah reading which is chanted by the Bar/Bat Mitzvah.

MITZVAH: (Plural is Mitzvot) Sometimes thought of as a “good deed,” in actuality, mitzvah is a commandment, an obligation stated in the Torah. The rabbis count 613 Mitzvot in the Torah.

ONEG SHABBAT: Literal translation is “Sabbath pleasure.” In practice, it refers to the sweets we savor after Shabbat services on Friday evening.

PARASHAH: Also called the sidrah, the parashah is the Torah portion which is assigned to be read each Shabbat.

SE'UDAT MITZVAH: Sharing a meal with the community as a way to celebrate is rooted in Jewish tradition. The Bar or Bat Mitzvah feast was declared a se'udat mitzvah, a meal celebrating a commandment, in the sixteenth century. The se'udat mitzvah is a traditional way to enhance a mitzvah by celebration to prevent it from being minimized. The feast is a joyous way of emphasizing the religious significance of the Bar/Bat Mitzvah service. (Please read the article on page 19).

SIDDUR: (Plural is Siddurim) The Hebrew word siddur means “order,” and is applied to the weekday and Shabbat prayerbook, since the prayerbook contains a specific order of the prayers. The siddur used by the Reform Movement is called Gates of Prayer.

SIMCHA: A joyous occasion.

TALLIT: (Plural is Tallitot) This prayer shawl is worn by Jewish adults in fulfillment of the commandment in the Torah, “You shall attach tzitzit (fringes) to the four corners of your garments.” The fringes are knotted in such a way that they remind us of all the Mitzvot in Judaism.

TALMUD: Ancient Jewish text containing explanations and commentaries on the Torah law by early Rabbis, completed around the year 500 C. E. in Babylonia.

TORAH: (Literally, “teaching”) The Torah really has two meanings. In its broadest sense Torah refers to the entire body of Jewish law, lore, and teachings. In its narrowest sense, Torah refers to the scroll on which are written the five books of Moses (Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy). Every Shabbat a consecutive portion of the Torah is read and studied.

TZEDAKAH: The giving of money or goods to those in need. Tzedakah translates to justice or fairness. Traditionally one makes a gift of Tzedakah in honor of simchas, including the simcha of becoming a Bar/Bat Mitzvah.

YAD B'YAD B'YACHAD: Hebrew expression for “hand in hand together.”

Eligibility and Preparation Requirements

1. JEWISH EDUCATION:

A minimum of four consecutive years (grades 4-7 or their equivalent) of regular attendance in a Jewish Religious Education program is expected as well as the satisfactory completion of its academic requirements and attendance requirements. Congregation Or Ami requires 80% attendance each school year to satisfy the attendance requirements for Bar/Bat Mitzvah.

Completion of the 7th grade year in Triple T (Tracks for Temple Teens) is required regardless of the Bar/Bat Mitzvah date. Students are required to attend a twelve-week Pre-B'nai Mitzvah Prayer class held 9-12 months prior to the Bar/Bat Mitzvah date.

We strongly encourage students to continue in our teen education programs through Confirmation and beyond. Bar/Bat Mitzvah is a milestone on the road of Jewish education. It is not an end, but the beginning of deeper learning and observance. As such, each student must be enrolled in and attending our Triple T (Tracks for Temple Teens: upper grades Jewish learning classes) at the time of his/her tutoring and Bar/Bat Mitzvah service. In the event that such classes have concluded for the summer or have not yet begun, students must be enrolled for the following year.

2. TASTE OF BAR/BATMITZVAH PRAYER CLASS

Our Taste of Bar/Bat Mitzvah Prayer Class prepares the 6th and 7th grade students for their Bar/Bat Mitzvah training. Often held on Tuesdays or Thursdays from 4:00 to 5:00 p.m. Groups of ten to twelve students will meet for an hour a week for twelve (12) weeks with Diane Townsend, our B'nai Mitzvah teacher. Groups are organized so students begin at least nine months before their Bar/Bat Mitzvah date. Class times and dates will be assigned and announced approximately a year before your Bar/Bat Mitzvah service. Tuition for this required program is currently $325.00 per student, but is subject to change. Please contact Susie Stark (818-880-4880 or Susie@orami.org if you have questions.

3. TUTORING:

Diane Townsend is the Bar/Bat Mitzvah teacher for Congregation Or Ami. She prepares all of our students for their Bar/Bat Mitzvah service. Individual study with Diane Townsend begins a minimum of six months prior to the Service date. Bar/Bat Mitzvah preparation requires 22 weekly sessions of one-half hour each followed by 4 sessions of one hour each.

(Please note: This 26-week course of study assumes basic proficiency in Hebrew reading and the chanting of appropriate prayers. If your child has not completed three full years of Religious School in grades 4, 5, and 6 prior to beginning of Bar/Bat Mitzvah preparation, special approval of the Congregation will be required, and additional study at the family's expense may be necessary.)

Students must study (per individual instruction) for a minimum of 20 minutes per day. If study is missed for one day, then 40 minutes must be put in the following day. The goal is daily reinforcement, not oppressive homework. Even if parents do not know Hebrew, you can listen for fluency, as well as give encouragement, and boost confidence. If your child is stumbling over the material, more practice time is required. If any “life” issues are affecting your child’s ability to study or concentrate, or if he/she becomes anxious about the work, please inform our B’nai Mitzvah Teacher, Diane Townsend as soon as possible.

Bar/Bat Mitzvah preparation fees are paid directly to the teacher. You will also pay an additional fee of 2 hours for Diane’s involvement on the day of the Bar/Bat Mitzvah service.

4. MITZVAH VOLUNTEER HOURS:

In recognition that becoming a Bar/Bat Mitzvah involves assuming responsibility, each Bar/Bat Mitzvah student is expected to complete a 10 hour mitzvah project PRIOR to your family meeting with the rabbi. This means that you need to complete the mitzvah project at least 2 months before your service. The mitzvah provides the student with an experience of volunteerism, particularly targeted to helping those in need.

This ten hour project may not be fulfilled using time credited toward community service requirements for school or other groups. However, the mitzvah project may be comprised of additional hours in the same setting. All mitzvah projects must be approved by our B’nai Mitzvah Project Coordinator. Please read the enclosed letter about the Mitzvah Project planning process.

We strongly encourage students and parents to work together to plan and carry out the mitzvah project. In this way, the student recognizes the abiding value of helping others even as the parental involvement reinforces the significance of the endeavor. You can create your own Mitzvah project or consider volunteering at:

- Jewish Home for the Aging at (818) 774-3307
- SOVA Kosher Food Pantry at (818) 988-7682
- Heal the Bay Canyon Clean Up Projects at (310) 453-0395
- The Gentle Barn at (661) 252-2440
- For additional volunteer opportunities in the Jewish community, contact the Jewish Federation by logging onto Sulam: The Center for Jewish Service Learning (www.sulamcenter.org) or <http://www.jewishla.org/page/s/volunteer>

While fundraising provides significant funds for volunteer organizations, the mitzvah volunteer hours may be fulfilled only with hands-on volunteering.

5. SHABBAT SERVICE ATTENDANCE

To ensure that our pre-B’nai Mitzvah students and their families are comfortable and familiar with Or Ami’s service, 6th and 7th grade students are required to attend six Friday night Shabbat services at Congregation Or Ami during the year. Students will receive credit for all Or Ami Friday night and holiday services (excluding High Holy Days). Students need to be accompanied by an adult, and must remain through the entire service. Students should “check in” with one of the Rabbis or the Cantor following each service. This service attendance requirement must be completed by the family meeting with the Rabbi three months prior to the Bar/Bat Mitzvah service.

Other Mitzvah Opportunities

There are many other ways that you can make this moment into a meaningful, value-laden celebration:

Table Centerpieces

Instead of flowers (which die soon after the simcha), consider using baskets filled with items that can be donated to help others. Some families have made beautiful baskets of books, toys, and stuffed animals, and donated them to homeless shelters, inner city schools or shelters for battered women.

Twinning with an underprivileged Israeli/Russian Child

For many disadvantaged Jews in Israel or the former Soviet Union, becoming a Bar/Bat Mitzvah may be just a dream. For a gift of $100 you can give an underprivileged child the opportunity to become a Bar/Bat Mitzvah as well. Link your child to a student in one of the Progressive Movement's congregations in Israel or the former Soviet Union and strengthen the chain of Jews who study and cherish Torah. (The program also provides opportunities for children with special physical or educational needs to become a Bar/Bat Mitzvah. Many children with disabilities are not allowed to participate in Orthodox Bar Mitzvah ceremonies.)

Your child will receive: The name and address of a Bar/Bat Mitzvah student in Israel and/or the former Soviet Union (please understand that the quality of communication depends on the ability of each child to write in the other's native language); a letter of congratulations from World Union of Progressive Judaism (WUPJ) honoring this significant life cycle event; a beautiful certificate to be presented by your rabbi during the Bar/Bat Mitzvah ceremony.

The student with whom your child is linked will receive: Bar/Bat Mitzvah training that includes study of Jewish symbols and ceremonies, moral and ethical values, prayer, and the weekly Torah portion. He/she will have the opportunity to take part in a meaningful Bar/Bat Mitzvah ceremony that integrates Progressive Judaism and Reform Jewish values within his/her own life; the name and address of the student with whom he/she is linked. For more information, contact the WUPJ directly by phone at (212) 650-4280.

Remembering a Child Lost in the Holocaust

The goal of the Remember Us Project is to have each bar or bat mitzvah student remember one individual child lost in the Holocaust. Remember Us: The Holocaust Bnai Mitzvah Project offers an invitation to children preparing for bar/bat mitzvah to connect with the memory of children lost in the Holocaust before they could be called to the Torah. The Remember Us Project provides the student with the name of a lost child, information about him/her, and suggestions for simple acts of remembrance: doing mitzvot b'shem (in the name of the child), mentioning the child in a d'var Torah, taking on the mitzvah of saying Kaddish, and/or lighting a yearzeit candle yearly. Learn more at <http://www.remember-us.org>.

Financial Responsibilities

- 1) All Temple dues and fees must be current and fully paid in order to schedule your family's Bar/Bat Mitzvah service date. Please be aware that the congregation's fiscal year runs from July 1 to June 30 (not September to August).
- 2) All membership dues and religious school fees for the current fiscal year must be paid in full no later than two months prior to the Bar/Bat Mitzvah date. Upper grades registration fees for the following year must be paid for students whose Bar/Bat Mitzvah date falls after Temple Teen Night classes end in May.
- 3) B'nai Mitzvah Fee: Each Bar/Bat Mitzvah family is responsible for paying a B'nai Mitzvah fee, currently $355.00 per family but subject to change, which supports the B'nai Mitzvah process including providing each student with his/her own siddur (prayerbook), covering administrative costs associated with the program, supporting the security, maintenance and the regular Oneg Shabbat either on the Friday evening (if you have chosen a Friday ceremony) or on the Friday evening service immediately prior to the Bar/Bat Mitzvah (if you have chosen a Saturday ceremony). The fee needs to be paid no less than six months prior to the Bar/Bat Mitzvah service. As this B'nai Mitzvah fee covers more than just the Oneg Shabbat, the fee needs to be paid even if you choose to offer at your own cost a more extensive Oneg Shabbat.
- 4) Special Oneg Shabbat: If you are having a Friday night Bar/Bat Mitzvah service at our congregation, any special arrangements that your family makes, including having a more extensive Oneg Shabbat, will be at the congregant's expense.
- 5) Gift to the Congregation: Many B'nai Mitzvah families choose to honor their son or daughter by making a special gift to Congregation Or Ami at the time of the ceremony. Every synagogue is sustained by the donations of grateful members. Holy occasions are appropriate to express appreciation to the congregation, which makes these joyous celebrations possible. Please speak with the Rabbi or Development Committee Chairperson about opportunities for meaningful contributions to Congregation Or Ami.
- 6) Security: It is the policy of Congregation Or Ami to have a minimum of one security personnel at each service and B'nai Mitzvah party/event at our synagogue. For families holding services on Saturday at the synagogue, the office staff will make arrangements for the security detail and convey those fees to the B'nai Mitzvah family. Typically the security personnel will arrive one hour prior to the ceremony. For Friday ceremonies, the security personnel will stay on duty for 4 hours and for Saturday ceremonies for 3½ hours. If a family is having an extended Oneg, then arrangements will be made by our staff to have the security stay longer. Only security

- officers hired from our security company and scheduled by our office staff may provide security. Security fees are payable six months prior to the service.
- 7) Maintenance: For families holding B'nai Mitzvah services on Friday evening, Saturday morning or afternoon, the office staff will make arrangements for maintenance staff to unlock, lock up, set up the sound system and chairs, and provide basic clean up after the service. The maintenance fee is payable six months prior to the service. Families holding a luncheon following the service will be charged according to the Premises Usage policy.
 - 8) Supervision of Youth Fee: Families inviting more than 30 pre-teen friends need to hire an additional person to supervise the youth. This will ensure that a boisterous group of friends will not negatively affect your simcha. Office staff will arrange for an approved youth supervisor. The cost is approximately $50.00.
 - 9) Carpet Cleaning Fee: Families hosting extended Onegs, brunches or parties at the synagogue will be charged a carpet cleaning fee according to a fee schedule listed in the Premises Usage policy.
 - 10) Additional fees for Saturday services may include (but are not limited to) sound system set up and a premises usage fee. Speak to the office for specific costs.
 - 10) No extra fee is requested or expected for the participation of the Rabbi or Cantor in your Bar/Bat Mitzvah service. This ceremony is one of the ways in which your Rabbi and Cantor are available to you as members of the Congregation.

Details of the Ceremony

TIME AND PLACE:

Bar/Bat Mitzvah services may be scheduled on a Friday night, Saturday morning or Saturday afternoon. Services will last between 1½ and two hours. Please note that attendance at all synagogue services will be open to all members of the congregation without special invitation. Your family will need to select one of the following services:

A) Friday night – Kabbalat Shabbat Services begin promptly at 6:30 PM

If you schedule your Bat/Bar Mitzvah ceremony on Friday night, then your family's participation will be a featured part of the congregation's regular Shabbat service in our sanctuary. We read 2 aliyot plus a maftir from the Torah. You may, of course, send the usual printed invitations to all your friends and relatives, and you can plan a celebration party for them at another time and place. Of course your friends and relatives are welcome to participate in our regular Oneg Shabbat.

B) Saturday morning – Shabbat Morning Services begin promptly at 10 AM

All Saturday services are held in our own sanctuary. We read 3 to 4 aliyot plus a maftir from the Torah. As a synagogue service, attendance is open to all members of the congregation. However, your reception remains private. The synagogue is available for a kiddush luncheon. Call the office for details.

C) Saturday afternoon – Havdalah Services begin promptly at 4 PM

All Saturday services are held in our own sanctuary. This is generally referred to as a Havdalah service because it concludes with the lovely ceremony that ends Shabbat. The service begins at 4PM. We read 3 to 4 aliyot plus a maftir from the Torah. As a synagogue service, attendance is open to all members of the congregation.

If you are participating in a Saturday morning or afternoon service, your family is expected to attend services the Friday night before. (In some instances, the family may need to attend a service earlier in the month. Please check with Rabbi Kipnes to confirm.) On that evening, the family will be honored and the Bar/Bat Mitzvah* will lead the Congregation in a prayer. (The Bar/Bat Mitzvah will also be presented with a congregational gift.) For all services and all times – Friday and Saturday – we invite the community to join us for worship.

SANCTUARY USAGE FOR PARTIES AND MEALS:

Our synagogue is available to members for B'nai Mitzvah luncheons. Our Premises Usage committee has a Usage guide, which details policies and fees. Please contact Susie Stark in our office for more information.

HONORS FOR FAMILY OR FRIENDS DURING THE SERVICE:

1. Aliyot

During Saturday services, we have three or four aliyot for family/friends, plus a maftir. During Friday night services, we are limited to 2 aliyot plus the maftir.) The final Aliyah, called the maftir, is for the Bar/Bat Mitzvah student. Aliyot may be apportioned in groups. Anyone who is called up for an aliyah must be 13 years of age or older. It is expected that people called to the Torah wear a tallit. Non-Jewish relatives are invited up to the bima with Jewish relatives. Please speak to Rabbi Kipnes to see how fully we welcome non-Jews.

A transliteration and translation of the Torah blessings (for before and after the Torah reading) are on page 18 and 19 in this Handbook. Please make copies of the blessing pages and have your honorees practice the blessings so that they can recite them with ease at the Service. In addition, downloadable copies of the blessings and .mp3 (music files) of the tunes for chanting are on our website's B'nai Mitzvah page (www.arami.org). People coming up for an aliyah need to learn the blessings. We encourage your son/daughter to help you learn the blessings; it is not too often that our children have the opportunity to teach their parents. Upon request to the Bar/Bat Mitzvah teacher, we can make a CD with the blessing melody.

2. Opening the Ark

Two adults may be designated to open the doors. They must be adults (over age 18), and may be Jewish or not.

3. Undressing Torah/Dressing Torah - G'lilah

One to six people may dress the Torah after it is read. Often the younger siblings or cousins of the Bar/Bat Mitzvah are accorded this honor. They may be of any appropriate age, and may be Jewish or not.

4. Adult to Sit with and Supervise Teenage Guests

Often our teenage guests need to be reminded to be respectful during services. If you will be having more than 30 teenage guests, you will be expected to hire a synagogue-provided chaperone to ensure they behave appropriately. In general, this will cost $50 for the service. If the teens feel the need to talk, the adult supervisor will need to ask them to step outside and will need to supervise them. Teens who do not sit with parents are expected to sit on the right hand side when facing the bimah. In addition, Diane Townsend (who is hired by the family to assist the Bar/Bat Mitzvah student during the Torah and Haftarah reading) will also help supervise the teens during the first half of the service. It is expected that someone supervise the teens during the second half of the service.

BLESSING BY THE PARENT(S)

Most parents choose to speak to their child during the ceremony. Parent(s) speeches take the form of a blessing to the child. They are to be no more than 1 page, double-spaced in length. The blessing should focus on the special qualities or values of the child. A written copy of the parent's blessing must be given to and approved by the Rabbi one week prior to the ceremony.

CANDY

The custom of throwing candy was meant to shower the young person with sweetness. Unfortunately, it has become a chance for “target practice” instead. As this could result in serious injury, throwing candy is NOT permitted.

D'VAR TORAH (SPEECH) OF THE BAT/BAR MITZVAH

The Bar/Bat Mitzvah will give a D'var Torah speech five to seven minutes long. Please call the office 4 months prior to the Bar/Bat Mitzvah ceremony to schedule an appointment with the Rabbi. Call 818-880-4880 or email rabbipaul@orami.org or rabbijulia@orami.org. The outline for the speech includes: A summary of Torah portion; discussion of how it relates to the “real life” of the Bar/Bat Mitzvah student; explanation of the meaning of becoming a Bar/Bat Mitzvah; description of the Mitzvah project; acknowledgments and thank you's. The Rabbi will assist students with their speeches, beginning the process by explaining the Torah Portion. The Rabbi will review the speech, edit, make suggestions and approve the D'var Torah.

DRESS CODE FOR THE BIMAH

Please dress respectfully for participation on the Bimah. Bare midriffs or shoulders, and low cut dresses, low cut blouses, and mini-skirts are not appropriate. Shirts must be tucked in and sports attire (i.e., sweats or jogging suits), jeans and tuxedos are not appropriate. Comfortable shoes should be worn; very high heels are not appropriate for the Bat Mitzvah girl. The synagogue now owns some shawls and, when necessary, will request (and require) that people dressed inappropriately cover themselves.

FLOWERS/SOVA FOOD BASKETS

Each B'nai Mitzvah family is required to provide at least two floral arrangements on Friday night (for the Bimah and the Oneg Shabbat table). During weekends when two or more families celebrate B'nai Mitzvah ceremonies, each family needs only provide one floral arrangement (in such cases, the rabbi, with input from each family, will determine which family will provide which arrangement). Each family may take the flowers home following the Shabbat service. The congregant is responsible for the cost of these arrangements. We encourage families to substitute SOVA food donation baskets for the flowers. Call SOVA at (818) 988-7682.

KIPPOT/TALLITOT

The wearing of a kippah (head covering) or a tallit (prayer shawl) is optional in our congregation, but highly encouraged, however, the Bar/Bat Mitzvah must wear a tallit. We encourage Jews receiving an Aliyah to wear a kippah and a tallit.

PHOTOGRAPHY AND VIDEOGRAPHY

1. Within certain guidelines, still photography is permitted during the service. Photographer must remain in the back of the sanctuary and may NOT use a flash. Families should pose for still pictures before or after the Service. Some families may wish to take pictures in the sanctuary on a day prior to the Bar/Bat Mitzvah. Please call Susie Stark to check availability and make arrangements to reserve the sanctuary.
2. Congregation Or Ami may be moving toward having an in-house videographer for all B'nai Mitzvah. Please speak to Susie Stark for the current policy.

SIDDURIM

We use our congregational prayer book – Mishkan T'filah - at all services.

Who Shall I Ask?

There are no dumb questions!

RABBI (RABBI KIPNES AND RABBI WEISZ)

The Rabbi is available to address any issues regarding the Bar/Bat Mitzvah process. A Rabbi's primary concern is that this be a special moment in "Jewish time" for everyone involved.

Please share any questions or concerns with Rabbi Kipnes regarding special family circumstances such as interfaith marriages, single parent or blended families, separation or divorce, participation of non-Jewish family members. Good counsel is available to help resolve any and all difficulties or dilemmas. Also, the Rabbi will help the student prepare the D'var Torah (speech) and parent(s) prepare their blessing of the child. While Rabbi Kipnes has overall responsibility for the B'nai Mitzvah process, Rabbi Weisz also works with students toward B'nai Mitzvah.

CANTOR (CANTOR COTLER)

1. Any questions regarding the liturgy (prayer service) or music. Of course, the Cantor is also available to help with any of the concerns mentioned above.

DIANE TOWNSEND, B'NAI MITZVAH TEACHER

1. Individual student preparation

The Seudat Mitzvah – The Party

Rites and Wrongs of Passage

adapted from Putting God On The Guest List

by Rabbi Jeffrey K. Salkin

The Bar and Bat Mitzvah party has been much criticized over the years. Yet most Jews do not know that the party is an integral part of the Bar/Bat Mitzvah ritual. The first mention of the Bar Mitzvah party is in the Shulchan Aruch (the classic sixteenth century code of Jewish law): “It is the religious obligation of the father to tender a festive meal in honor of his son’s becoming a Bar Mitzvah, just as he might do when the boy marries.”

From a halachic (Jewish legal) point of view, then, the party has a proud lineage. But references to Bar Mitzvah parties go back even further. Scholars have a field day in locating the genuine seed of the custom.

Some say it goes back to Isaac’s weaning. Genesis 21:8 says Abraham threw a feast to celebrate that event. One ancient source suggested that Isaac was weaned at the age of thirteen (Midrash, Bereshit Rabbah 53:10!)

A Choice: Celebration or Conspicuous Consumption

Modern American Jews are not the first Jews to confront the ethical overtones of conspicuous consumption. Even in medieval times, there were excesses in celebration. But in the sixteenth century, Rabbi Solomon Luria didn’t like what he saw. In his commentary on the Talmud, he condemned Bar Mitzvah parties as “occasions for wild levity, just for the purpose of stuffing the gullet” (Yam Shel Shelomo, Baba Kama, 7:37).

The rabbis of the Middle Ages eventually enacted laws to limit spending on festivities. They did this to protect the dignity of the less wealthy. This was identical to the original reason for a plain wooden casket at a funeral---so no one would be humiliated by having a less-than-opulent coffin. It also parallels the original reason for communal wedding rings that all brides would wear so that none would have to do without.

In the early decades of the twentieth century, when Jews were first becoming comfortable in America, Bar Mitzvah parties became especially opulent. Soon, the Bar Mitzvah’s social component would eclipse its ritual function. In the 1920s and 1930s the catering industry grew, which encouraged the transformation of Bar Mitzvah from a ceremony to an “affair.” This era also saw the growth of gift giving in connection with Bar Mitzvah.

The Ethics of Jewish Celebration

Soon, the materialism that had become attached to Bar Mitzvah was decried. In 1938, the noted Orthodox rabbi, H. Pereira Mendes, insisted that the Bar Mitzvah “not be allowed to deteriorate into merely a day for perfunctory observance or for merry-making or gifts.” Twenty-six years later, the Central Conference of American Rabbis condemned the “deterioration in the character of the Bar Mitzvah affair.” The extravagant consumption, the conspicuous waste, and the crudity of many of these affairs are rapidly becoming a public Jewish scandal. The lowering of standards, as reflected in many Bar Mitzvah celebrations, is in direct violation of the teaching of the Torah. The trend toward the abandonment of aesthetic standards can lead to the abandonment of ethical standards as well.”

Concerns about the taste and aesthetics of Bar and Bat Mitzvah are still with us today. But there is a larger issue of the Jewish ethics of celebration. Such ethics help us understand the way that Jews view the world.

Judaism’s great contribution to the moral vocabulary of the world was that it produced a middle way between extremes, the way of mitzvah and kedushah (holiness). God made us a little lower than the angels, but much higher than the animals. Judaism says that we neither reject nor hoard pleasure. We sanctify pleasure. We sanctify what we eat through kashrut (dietary laws), what we own through tzedakah (holy giving), what we drink by kiddush (blessing the wine).

Toward The Middle Way:

How to Sanctify Our Celebrations and Put God on the Guest List

What do we do? “Putting God on the Guest List” means that God calls to us to conquer, in some small way, the polarities between the sacred and the profane. Early in the planning stages for a Bar or Bat Mitzvah, it is important for parents to ask, “What Jewish values do we hope this Bar or Bat Mitzvah celebration will embody?” Make a list of them. Your list may include compassion, dignity, justice, learning, social action, generosity, humility, moderation, a love for the Jewish people and the Jewish homeland. Plan your celebration around these values, and stick to them.

One family asked its Bat Mitzvah guests to give money to the Jewish Federation to help poor elderly Jews. Another family put emblems of the twelve tribes on the tables at their son’s Bar Mitzvah. It was their way of teaching about our roots in the land of Israel.

One family bought trees in Israel in honor of its Bar Mitzvah guests. Another family asked family members and friends to help light the candles on the Bat Mitzvah cake. Such a ritual is not unusual, but they chose to do it in a different way. As each guest came up to light a candle, he or she offered the Bat Mitzvah girl a blessing, or a word of encouragement, or a Jewish value that the young woman might embody.

Other families put photos and biographies of important Jewish leaders throughout history on each table at their party, or put information about certain charities on each table and asked guests to contribute or learn about the causes. Some families forego the entire culture of catering by having the party at their homes or at a summer camp.

Best yet, many families go to Israel in lieu of a party. They have correctly surmised that their child would soon forget the party, but a trip to Israel does not become a lost memory.

Ultimately, these are the answers: Jewish celebrations that celebrate Jewish values. The educational and spiritual part of Bar/Bat Mitzvah can extend beyond the final hymn at the service. It can permeate the lives of our young, and it can enrich what they take with them into the world.

When a caterer inevitably asked, “What’s the theme of your son’s Bar Mitzvah going to be? The mother responded, “How about Judaism?” It’s a good answer, simple yet elegant.

Who will Guarantee the Jewish Future? A Rabbinic Legend

One of the most famous of all Rabbinic legends concerns the moment when God gave the Torah to the Jewish people at Mount Sinai.

According to the Rabbis, just before God presented the Commandments to the Israelites,

God said, "I want to give you a precious way of life, these mitzvot through which you will be able to make life itself. But first I want to know what you will give me as a guarantor of your willingness to keep this way of life alive!"

Our people said, "We will give you our prophets in exchange. They will be our guarantors of the Jewish future."

But God said, "No, the prophets weren't good enough."

So our people said, "We will give you our sages and rabbis. They will be our guarantors of the Jewish future."

But God said, "No, the sages and rabbis weren't good enough either."

Finally, our people's eyes were opened, and they realized what had to be done. "We will give you our children.

They will be our guarantors of the Jewish future."

"Yes," said God at last,

"Now I will certainly give you the Torah, the mitzvot and this precious Jewish way of life, for your children are the best guarantors of all."

And that is how it has been.

For four thousand years, our future has rested squarely upon the shoulders of our children.

Caring for them, nurturing them, lovingly teaching them all the ethics, values, rituals, customs and spiritual inheritance that Jewish life has to offer, has always been our greatest responsibility and our greatest challenge.
