

Or Ami ^{congregation}

you're home

Calabasas' First Jewish Community Serving the West San Fernando and Conejo Valleys

Rabbi Paul Kipnes • Rabbi Julia Weisz • Cantor Emeritus Doug Cotler

Or Ami congregation you're home

May the door of this synagogue be wide enough to receive all who hunger for love, all who are lonely for friendship.

May it welcome all who have cares to unburden, thanks to express, hopes to nurture.

May its threshold be no stumbling block to young or straying feet. May it be too high to admit complacency, selfishness, and harshness.

May this synagogue be the doorway to a richer and more meaningful life.

*Congregation Or Ami is a sanctuary of kindness,
a safe Jewish community for today, your second home.*

Bask in our welcoming, inclusive, musical, innovative Jewish community.

Connect with warm, accessible, insightful clergy.

*Be spiritually inspired.

Discover deep connections with Torah, Israel, and the Holy One.

*Partner with others who seek justice to change the world.

If this kind of community feels exciting to you, then stop by to schmooze (talk) or grab a cup of coffee with our rabbis and cantor. We know you will feel the warmth.

Come home to Judaism. Come home to Congregation Or Ami.

Bask in our welcoming, inclusive, musical, innovative Jewish community

A Congregation that Inspires

At Or Ami, we deepen relationships with each other, while immersing in Torah, Israel and the Source of All Life. We travel together down Jewish paths which inspire our hearts and souls, and transform us to seek justice and nurture compassion in the world.

A Community that Embraces All

Congregation Or Ami cherishes the mitzvah of hachnasat orchim (welcoming guests) as a most important tenet of our faith. We believe that being inclusive is central to being a Jewish community.

We actively welcome interfaith couples and families into our community and encourage their participation. Recognizing that we are all created b'tzelem Elohim (in the image of God), we are pleased to celebrate Jews of Color, and other multicultural Jewish individuals, couples, and families. We embrace young families and active adults of all ages, tots and teens, individuals of all ages and all family structures. We reach out to families with special needs to ensure that they fully share in the warmth of Judaism. Jewish LGBTQ+ individuals and families are embraced fully within our congregation. Our arms are open wide to those struggling with illness, recovering from addictions, and seeking spirituality for whatever the reason. Come home to Or Ami.

Henaynu Caring Community

We are there for one another in good times as well as difficult times. Chesed (kindness) defines the way we interact at Or Ami. As a Henaynu Caring Community (henaynu means “we are here”), our congregants and clergy reach out during times of illness, birth, death, need, and celebration.

Connect with warm, accessible, insightful clergy

Rabbi Paul Kipnes

rabbipaul@orami.org

As spiritual leader of Or Ami, Rabbi Kipnes inspires creative Torah learning, meaningful communal caring, life-altering social justice work, and deep Jewish spirituality. He practices what he preaches: inclusive welcoming and all embracing openness. He guides us to experience holiness throughout the wilds of California, down by the beach, in the local state park, in congregants' backyards, and around a campfire circle. Under his leadership, Or Ami earned sixteen national awards and received multiple grants from major foundations. Rabbi Kipnes has mentored over 54 rabbis and Jewish educators and served as Vice President of the Central Conference of American Rabbis. Rabbi Kipnes was a Camp Director, a trained Addictions and Recovery Spiritual Care provider, and Faculty Dean for Camp Newman. Warm and accessible, Rabbi Kipnes shares relevant Jewish wisdom on the bimah, in his blogs (paulkipnes.com, MidrashicMonologues.com) and, with his co-author/wife Michelle November, in their book Jewish Spiritual Parenting.

Rabbi Julia Weisz

rabbijulia@orami.org

Rabbi Weisz is a nationally-recognized “pied piper” for teens and young people, uniquely talented in creating Jewish experiences that make our youth feel safe and valued. She directs all of our learning programs for youth, adults and families. Under her visionary leadership, Or Ami’s teen programs have become national models for youth engagement. Her Madrichim Leadership Institute has re-imagined Jewish learning by guiding teens to become Jewish role models for their younger peers. Her exciting retreats, Hebrew through Movement, and camp-at-temple experiences have realized a 22% increase in teen participation. Rabbi Weisz leads our homelessness project, serves on the Leadership Team for California Religious Action Center of Reform Judaism, and assists book editing committees for the CCAR Press. Her presentations at Hebrew Union College have distinguished her as a “rock star rabbi.” An insightful teacher and preacher, Rabbi Weisz inspires others as she leads services and provides compassionate pastoral care.

Cantor Emeritus Doug Cotler

dougcotler49@gmail.com

Founding clergy of Congregation Or Ami, Doug Cotler is a Grammy Award winning composer and an accomplished singer, songwriter and musician. Blessed with a warm and expressive voice, Doug’s sensitive and penetrating interpretations of liturgy, as well as his insightful and humorous songs about Jewish events and heroes, have placed him in the forefront of contemporary Jewish music. Cantor Cotler believes that ritual is supposed to get you in the mood, to center you, and to get your mind off the world outside. With warmth and creative music, he guides our BMitzvah students on their journey toward adulthood. Cantor Cotler is well known throughout the Jewish world for his stirring songs – including Listen, Standing on the Shoulders, and A Rose in December – all of which can be heard on his many CD’s (www.dougcotler.com) and in the concerts he performs around the country.

Be Spiritually Inspired

God and Jewish Spirituality can be found everywhere!

That is why we venture beyond our sanctuary walls to celebrate Shabbat and Holy Days in the natural sanctuaries of the California wilds. Annually, we trek to Zuma Beach in Malibu for a post-Rosh Hashanah “Tashlich by the Beach” picnic. Our backyard services in the summer attract friends to their neighbors’ backyards. We celebrate under the stars in the spring and summer, and in living rooms during the winter. On Tu B’shvat in January, we tend our Mitzvah Grove in Malibu Creek State Park. Passover in April is celebrated with reenactments of the Exodus. Join us for Men’s Nights Out and Women’s Nights Out as we create friendships in congregants’ homes.

Inspiring Prayer

Or Ami is dedicated to celebrating Shabbat, life-cycle events and holidays in meaningful, spiritual ways. Friday night is a holy evening. Our Shabbat services are spiritually inspiring and socially satisfying. We sing together, led by multiple musical instruments and beautiful harmonies. We begin services by warmly welcoming guests and always include prayers for strength and healing. Monthly Tot Shabbat engages our young children while Family Shabbat inspires all ages. We shake up Shabbat, pushing the boundaries to open us spiritually through themed Shabbat services: Broadway, Color Me Prayer, Classic Rock, Inclusion, Mental Health, Drum Circle and Guitar Circle. Neighborhood Shabbat celebrates Shabbat in homes throughout the community.

Being Together – Deepening Relationships

At Or Ami we find joy in being together.

Our Men’s Night Out and Women’s Night Out bring us together every six weeks at different congregant homes for a socializing and schmoozing (conversation). Over dinner and drinks, new friendships are created and Judaism is enhanced. Our rabbis guide us to explore what it means to be a man or woman, and to be part of a Jewish family.

Our Business Roundtable is a community of professionals who serve their clients as trusted advisors and share the highest standards of integrity, performance and accountability. Meeting monthly over breakfast, we enable relationship building, information sharing, and collaboration for the benefit of clients and one another. We enjoy a Jewish take on our work so that Judaism can keep us grounded and our integrity intact.

Or Ami Village—it’s not a place. It’s a vibrant community created and led by Or Ami partners 55+ years and beyond that nourishes the mind, heart, and spirit. We have an active calendar of events – from movie nights and museum visits to picnics and hikes to concerts and discussions with leading thinkers. We are always striving to design programs and activities to meet our members’ needs, while honoring Or Ami values. More at orami.org/village.

Our Shared Interest Groups foster relationships all over the Conejo and West San Fernando Valleys. Recent Shared Interest Groups include the Or Ami Chorale, Book Clubs, Cooking Group, 10 Plagues Softball Team, Photography, Hiking, Avon 2-Day Walk Team, and Jewish 12 Step Recovery, with others in formation for Runners, Bowlers, Museum Mavens, and more.

*Discover
deep connections
with Torah, Israel, and the Holy One*

Kesher Children in Pre-K to 6th grade

Kesher (connection) connects your child to Judaism, the community and Israel. We foster within each child the knowledge and skills needed to live Jewishly and feel a part of our Jewish people. Fun, engaging activities, music and drama, games and project-based learning explore the breadth of Jewish tradition. We nurture Jewish spirituality and root our lives in Jewish values. Kesher students meet once a week on Tuesdays or Wednesdays.

B'Mitzvah

During B'Mitzvah ceremonies, our children emerge into adolescence. Passing the sacred Torah into your child's arms creates an intensely spiritual moment for all. As a child leads the prayer service, chants from Torah, and teaches us through an insightful d'var Torah (speech), you will be inspired, knowing that Judaism will be safe for another generation.

Each student leads his/her own service. The preparation is deeply personal. Students study with our B'Mitzvah teacher. They also meet individually for two months with Rabbis Paul Kipnes or Julia Weisz to develop the rabbi-student relationship, study the Torah portion, and prepare a D'var Torah (speech). Cantor Doug Cotler rehearses every student to offer helpful advice and reduce the level of anxiety. With personalized attention, you will enjoy a transformative spiritual experience of deep meaning.

Mishpacha Family Programs

Five times a year, the families of all styles and structures are invited to enjoy a Mishpacha (family) program, exploring the intersection of Jewish values and Jewish action in meaningful and fun ways. As a Family Mitzvah Club, we will guide our children to become Mensches (kind compassionate kids) who care about each other and our world.

Tikkun Olam: Repairing the World

Center for Tikkun Olam

Tikkun Olam means, “repairing the world.” At Or Ami, we travel together down Jewish paths, which inspire our hearts and souls, and transform us to seek justice and nurture compassion in the world. Too often, the pressures of daily life provide easy excuses not to invest ourselves in social justice mitzvah work. Our Center for Tikkun Olam creates multiple opportunities to engage in healing our broken world.

Mitzvah Day Caring for Abused and Neglected Children

Each winter, our synagogue becomes a sacred assembly line as we fill and personalize over 500 comfort bags for children who will be removed from their homes and are entering foster care. Over 16,000 donated items of clothing, activity books, books, journals, toiletries and night lights are collected to ease the lives of these kids.

Child Shopping Spree

Each December, we chaperone 50 at risk youth through a local department store. For many, this is their first shopping trip, and often their first experience with new clothes. Donated gift cards ensure each child can purchase needed clothing. Volunteers also provide a delicious meal and dessert.

Parent-Teen Mental Health and Wellness Summit

Parents, teens, parenting experts and therapists gather together for a daylong summit to learn real skills for resilience, stress management and anxiety reduction. We aim to transform our Or Ami into a truly safe place for teens and the parents who love but are unsure of how to protect them.

Conejo Valley Food and Shelter Program

Our Jewish impulse to feed others (essen mine kin – eat, my child) compels us to feed the hungry. As part of a coalition of churches and synagogues in the Conejo Valley, Or Ami volunteers to cook for and feed the hungry one Sunday each month.

SOVA Food Pantry

On the High Holy Days, when we take stock of our lives and consider how to change them for the better, we stock the shelves of the SOVA Food Pantry so that others can share our blessings. Rosh Hashanah worshippers fill grocery bags with canned goods, returning them on Yom Kippur for distribution through SOVA. Or Ami regularly volunteers at SOVA, sorting food items and preparing food bags for SOVA's clients.

Brandon's Buddies

Or Ami youth join with children who have different abilities and special needs for fun days of playing and arts and crafts projects at Brandon's Village, a universally accessible playground. When both groups play together, we celebrate the holiness that we share.

Community Organizing

Committed to a vision of justice, we are organizing to act powerfully and successfully across lines of faith, class, and race to address the root causes of economic and social injustice. Our core team nurtures and trains congregants to build deep relationships grounded in Torah and avodah (religious meaning), and to foster authentic relationships with other communities who share a vision of a world redeemed. Our purpose is redemption: the sacred transformation of the world as it is into the world as we know it should be – overflowing with justice. We are currently focused on ending homelessness in Southern California.

Jewish World Watch

Our Jewish voice against genocide was raised against the genocidal destruction that took place in the Darfur region of western Sudan. Since then, Jewish World Watch led synagogues, schools and churches to speak out against major human rights violations consuming the Congo, Uganda and Central African Republic. Or Ami participates in the Walk to End Genocide, petition signing, and letter writing to ensure that "Never Again!" is more than just a post-Holocaust slogan.

New Directions for Youth Supporting At-Risk Youth

During the summer, we take at-risk youth on a fishing trip. On Mitzvah Day November, we create over 400 comfort backpacks to be given to children entering the foster care system because of abuse or neglect. At our December Child-Spree, we chaperone these kids through Kohl's Department store, using donated gift cards to purchase new, discounted clothes. Our Future Coaches teen program creates Sports Days to lead and play with these young people. During Prom Prep, we ensure that foster children are able to take part in their high school proms. Many of our Bar/Bat Mitzvah students develop engaging mitzvah projects with New Directions for Youth.

And...

We collect and distribute: Shoes that Fit for school children, Jill's Coats for Kids so even the poorest will be warm during the winter, and the Green Bag Project so people in Downtown LA have clothing and toiletries. We partner with ETTA to support adults with disabilities. We support Hand in Hand, schools for Jewish and Arab children in Jerusalem, and partner with American Jewish World Service to fight hunger, disease and poverty in the developing world. AIPAC, ARZA, J-Street, IMPJ, and Women of the Wall allow us to build a stronger American-Israel partnership and to deepen progressive Judaism in Israel. You see, at Or Ami, we take seriously the responsibility to fix the world, one life at a time.

Partner with others who seek justice to change the world.

Nurturing the Next Generation

Kid-ish Club (for Tots and the Adults who Love Them)

Our Kid-ish Club gathers families with tots for monthly activities, including Tot Shabbat, holiday celebrations, Shabbat in My Gym, and Pancake Breakfasts at the Park. We introduce our young children to the joys of Judaism with music, hands on experiences and warm experiences with the Rabbis and Cantor.

Shabbat Pajama Party (Grades K-3)

Our Kindergarten through 3rd grade children gather a few times a year for a Pajama Party with our rabbis and cantor. Dressed in matching jammies, our clergy lead songs, tell stories, and guide our young students in positive encounters with Judaism.

4th-6th Grade Retreat

Because your children are exceedingly busy, Or Ami's retreat is so important. During a Shabbat at Camp Alonim with their Or Ami family, they develop friendships with other temple kids, relax away from the pressures of school, and take in some fresh air. The weekend – staffed by our rabbis and cantor, interns and beloved teachers – includes games, food, fun activities, sports, and a festive Shabbat celebration.

GoMPTY (Grades 4-6)

GoMPTY (Glimmer of My People Temple Youth) is our newest Jr. youth group for 4th through 6th grade students. Focused on fun activities, GoMPTY nurtures friendship and Jewish connections.

SoMPTY (Grades 7-8)

SoMPTY (Sparks of My People Temple Youth) is our energetic youth group for 7th and 8th grade students. Led by youth advisors and guided by our senior youth group board, SoMPTY is designed for socializing and relationship building within our community. Whether engaging in fun activities or social action projects, the teens develop an appreciation for Jewish community and their own worthiness as pre-teens.

HUB78 & HUB9-12 (Grades 7-12)

Our HUB78 and HUB9-12 weave Jewish learning, sports, arts, drama and volunteerism into exciting, meaningful youth learning activities.

LoMPTY (Grades 9-12)

LoMPTY, our social and cultural Jewish youth group led for teens connects them to fun Jewish living! Whether enjoying a ballgame, or late-night broom-ball, participating in social action projects, or leading music for Havdalah services, our teenagers experience the delights of being Jewish, as they develop leadership skills, social consciousness, and Jewish joyfulness. LoMPTYites also engage in social action projects and meaningful discussions about peer pressure, sex, the world at war, human rights and more. Our teens participate in the North American Federation of Temple Youth (NFTY SoCal region).

Jewish Summer Camp

Rabbis Paul and Julia (and their families) lead a delegation of 40 people each summer to Camp Newman, a Jewish summer in Santa Rosa, CA. We believe that Jewish summer camp is one of the best ways to build self-esteem, create new friendships and inspire children to love being Jewish. Additionally, Or Ami sends young people to many area camps including Camp Hess Kramer, Gindling Hilltop Camp, Camp Alonim, JCA Shalom, and Camp Ramah. We guide families to scholarships that help underwrite the costs of camp.
